ASQ poster work

- Poster was created and sent out with the meeting packet that was created from the ASQ social emotional pieces
- Posted around the community: library, playgroup locations, and preschools
- ASQ-3 portion for pieces of child development
- Suggested making the background of the new poster a different color so it is clear they are different posters.
- Send any for the new development poster suggestions to Bridget

Parent Information Cards Playgroup

- Committee put a lot of work into education on parents on the need for preschool due to the higher standards on kindergarten now.
- Suggestions to send out the materials to parents via: SeeSaw, Bright by Text, robo call system, and Great Start newsletter
- Would like to see additional information on screen time use in children.
- Kelly Sheppard will do some reach outs to past members to build up the group for that work

Playgroups

- Resha Willis tried to be as inventive as possible with playgroups during the pandemic.
- Had craft videos and kits, and Zoom visits, and in person playgroups outside.
- Struggling with locations that will allow us storage space for playgroups.

- Bob Powell offered his foster care visitation room at Family Service and Children's Aid for playgroups, and it is already filled with toys.
